The Run

For once the federal highway was reasonably clear and it took no time to reach the new run site, which I suspect will be used quite often this year. Although there was a spot of drizzle getting there, the clouds had cleared by the time I arrived and the sun beat down.

It was a good turn out with the 4x wheel drive trucks going across the small central kerb to park on one side and the rest of the cars on the other. Those who hadn't collected their AGM freebie stepped forward to receive it from the ex On Sec Excellent Choice, while others basked in the sun.

At 5.30pm Ramli arrived with the drinks, which was a nice surprise to have him turn up when he should. Eric Ng was so taken aback at the early arrival that he stated that now we have a new On Sec, Steven, things were great and a shame about the useless old OnSec - Eric got a suitable reward for this comment at the circle.

Six O'clock came and paper had yet to be found, but soon after this On Sec Steven called the run On and raced into the bush. The trail headed down towards the man-made lake with many dead trees sticking out and a lone fisherman trying his luck. The new On Sec was nowhere to be seen as the rest of the pack skirted to the right of the water. No sooner had the pack entered the jungle, On On was called as the first check was already broken.

The trail then went over a small rise and into the oil palm. At a fork in the trail paper went left and a smallish pack with Frankie, Michael Lee, Danny Lim, Excellent Choice and Ah (Soh) Bee went to the right and about 800 meters further up saw paper again.

The main pack and the second check had gone in a big Left hand loop. The trail was largely a reverse of last week's AGM track with many familiar paths. The second additional loop came near the open field where we held the memorial for Guinness Khoo in what was to be a large clockwise run. This time a much larger part of the pack shortcutted further to the right including Michael Chew, Leong Pang Wai and Won Tian Haur.

Nevertheless, it was a long way back to the run site with the whole trail being about 11-13km. The front runner came out just before 7.30pm with the majority of people coming out as the last embers of fading daylight graced the enveloping evening sky. Great run!

The Circle:

The evening was balmy and even after showering, the sweat was pouring down, so the unlucky person having to wear the 'cow' Butler uniform and hat was Orange who got his free beer and a good song. The Hares were up next and everyone called it a good run with only Mountain Goat and a few others wishing it was a little longer.

Tan and Tan were called up for a special mention as they had given the Piss Pan some handles and had some excellent engraving done on the sides and bottom, making it a truly unique Mother Hash item.

On Cash had received quite a lot of money this evening but as we were in the last month of the first quarter, he threatened a RM50 fine if people didn't pay up before the end of the month.

This news shook the pack with a few recalcitrant hashers digging in their pockets to see how much change they had left. InterhashSec asked people to pay up for the 80th celebration and if the pack hadn't paid by the time they hit 1000 registrants, the fee was going to rise.

We had two guests: Kim from (not surprisingly) Korea and Hau Yong who were welcomed with a song and a beer.

Then chaos took over with Mathew mentioning an unmentionable word followed by Blow- Job Kang, Jeffrey Hau, Preston Lim and Alleluya also for mentioning unmentionable words.

Poon, next week's Hare, had subcontracted the Bomoh duties out to Billy No-Hare who came to the box wearing a Chawat, which was no more than a bit of cloth that resembled a very flimsy kilt. And he was on form.

First up was Kana and Michael for using an unmentionable Wednesday's hash direction sign, and who both mentioned an unmentionable word for a double down down. Yap Foo Hoi was up for running over Ben Kaw's shoes as he was reversing his car.

Then all the Botaks were on the box after Kau Peng Yap ordered free shampoo for them. This was followed by Ah Hong and Zuric for wasting drinking water on washing the windscreen of his car while the rest of the pack was thirsty; and Mountain Goat for calling the new On Sec, "On Sex".

Charges from the Floor had John Dodgson accuse ex On Sec Excellent Choice for handing out a pink towel for the AGM freebie (it's Salmon, honest, and orange if you get it in a good light).

Yap Foo Hoi got Opera for borrowing clothes: last week it was shorts and this week it was shoes. Then Russell, On Cash, organised a King's Crown be presented in deferential fashion to the New On Sec with much ceremony and a good song.

At about 9.20 we were off the restaurant in Subang town. Excellent food came to six full tables, and all for a heavily subsidised price. A truly excellent evening! Thanks Michael Moi.

Thank You EC.
